

Why is Stephen Harper ignoring Public Transit?

On March 6, 2007, Stephen Harper promised the GTA $962 million for public transit.

Nine months later,
people of the GTA
are still waiting

"We do not have the money"

- Mississauga Mayor
Hazel McCallion

Toronto Star, September 26, 2007

"... even when the federal government wants to support something, it becomes so complicated just to sign the agreements."

- Toronto Mayor
David Miller

Stephen Harper is taking
Toronto commuters for a ride
... and for granted.

Don't let him get away with it.

We delivered transit funding for Toronto

On June 17, 2005, the federal Liberals promised transit dollars, and on August 19, 2005, the first cheque for $87 million was delivered!

David Miller said,

"So we've got, in fact, what we asked for, so I'm very, very pleased," (Victoria Times Colonist, June 18, 2005)

Hazel McCallion called it "monumental."

"It not only gives us money but it recognizes we are a level of government and are responsible for the economic success (of) Canada," (Toronto Star, June 18, 2005)

The Conservative's are ignoring Toronto.

Toronto's commuters are paying for it.
